One of the most neglected aspects of journal submission is the cover letter. Although it may seem like a formality, the cover letter is actually an important part of the submission process. The cover letter is your chance to tell the editor about your manuscript, why it is important, and how it fits into the scope of their journal.

~~Cover letters~~

Always submit an accompanying cover letter with every manuscript. Some journals have very specific requirements for information to provide in the cover letter, and these are usually stated in the journal's instructions to authors. Make sure your cover letter includes any journal-required elements.
